

Life's stresses aren't a game

Real solutions are close at hand

Help with stress

A satisfaction survey of employees who used work-life balance EAP shows nearly 75% reported less stress.¹

When you have questions, concerns or emotional issues surrounding your personal or work life, you can count on us to offer help. Unum's EAP offers unlimited access to master's level consultants by telephone, resources and tools online, and up to three face-to-face visits with a consultant for help with a short-term problem.*

Help for personal challenges, big and small

Keeping your work and personal life in balance can sometimes be tricky. Stressful situations can affect your health, well-being and ability to focus on what's important.

That's when you can pick up the phone and speak confidentially to a master's level consultant who can help you or a family member to:

- Locate childcare and eldercare services and obtain matches to the appropriate provider based on your or your family's preferences and criteria. The consultant will even confirm space availability.
- Speak with financial experts by phone regarding issues such as budgeting, controlling debt, teaching children to manage money, investing for college, and preparing for retirement
- Work through complex, sensitive issues such as personal or work relationships, depression, or substance abuse
- Get a referral to a local attorney for a free, 30-minute in-person or telephonic legal consultation

You'll have access to an attorney for state specific legal information and services. If you decide to retain the attorney, you may be eligible to receive a 25% discount on additional services.

You also have unlimited website access at www.lifebalance.net where you can:

- Read booklets, life articles and guides
- View videos and online seminars, as well as listen to podcasts
- Subscribe to email newsletters
- Find information on parenting, retirement, finances, education and more
